Everything is breathing and receiving and giving back from everything else at all levels of being ... fundamentally this is the dance – it is the only language in which God can speak the word "love".
~ Cynthia Bourgeault, The Divine Exchange

The Contemplative Society is a charitable organization depending largely on the financial contributions of donors and members.

It is through the generosity of prior and current donors that we are able to support Rev. Cynthia Bourgeault in her work as a spiritual teacher, writer, and a leader in the recovery of the Christian contemplative and wisdom tradition.

Your vital contribution and support will help us to continue our work, and enable us to maintain our presence as a resource for connecting the global network of contemplatives learning and growing together on this path.

"... I simply cannot emphasize enough how important The Contemplative Society has become in supporting my work...It's allowing contemplatives from all over the world to connect in a "network of hearts" ... what a pivotal role the Society is playing, both in supporting me personally in my teaching and in helping bring this teaching to the world..."
~ In gratitude, Cynthia
